

Troubleshooting for Error Messages

Why doesn't Pinterest post my image or display my image incorrectly?

All networks are different and follow different rules when it comes to images sizes. If you have posted to Pinterest with Blog2Social and Pinterest doesn't displays your image or not in a way you want, the size of your image could be the reason.

Overview of the images sizes suitable for Pinterest

The infographic features a red vertical bar on the left with the Pinterest logo and the word "Pinterest" written vertically. The background is a light pink wall with wavy patterns. Three image size guidelines are shown in white boxes with black borders: "COVER PHOTO" (656 x 369 px) with a bed icon, "PIN" (1000 x 1500 px, 2:3 ratio) with a pushpin icon, and "PROFILE PICTURE" (minimum 165 x 165 px) with a person icon. At the bottom right, there is an illustration of a wooden table with a picture of a landscape on it and a potted sunflower. The footer is a green banner with the "Blog2Social" logo, the text "Smart Social Media Automation for WordPress and as WebApp", and several social media icons. Below the banner is a white footer with copyright information, the website URL, and the Blog2Social logo.

Although Blog2Social adapts your blog's images to the respective networks you are posting them to, images that are too large or too small will result in, either not being posted at all or appearing pixelated as Blog2Social tries to fill the images frame in the network.

Troubleshooting for Error Messages

As a ground rule for Pinterest, your images should not exceed 10 MB. Different numbers of pixel are suitable for different purposes.
