How do I access the calendar feature of Blog2Social?

If you're really active in social media and have many social media posts scheduled in Blog2Social day by day, it might be hard to get a sufficient overview about your schedule.

The calendar feature of Blog2Social gives you the choice to switch between:

- the list view you're used to and
- a calendar view

How to access your calendar view:

1. Go to Blog2Social under "Planned Posts" and
2. click on the Button "Show calendar" button.
3. Your calendar view will open. Select the day for which all publications should be shown.
4. Afterwards, Blog2Social filters out all planned publications for the day you select.
