

Troubleshooting for Error Messages

Flickr: You have reached the publication limit with your account

Flickr decided to change their free account upload limit. Free users on Flickr can now upload up to 1000 pictures.

If you receive the message “You have reached the publication limit with your account”, you probably already uploaded 1000 pictures to your account.

Please delete some of these pictures to make room for new pictures.

You can find more information about this on the flickr blog.
